JUST TALK

Jewish theologian Irving Greenberg wrote, "Religion is as religion does.....all the rest is just talk." When writing this statement he had the Jewish Holocaust in view. What he wanted his readers to understand was that it wasn't enough to just say a prayer for the Jews during the reign of horror of Adolph Hitler. It didn't help that some folks were saddened by the people being tortured and murdered. For any good to be done people had to be moved beyond just words or sentiments. Jews running from the horror needed real help.....food..... a place to hide..... help getting out of the country.....money. Smoke billowed from the gas chambers and crematories more than half a century ago. Millions died while people wished them well.

When I read his words I wondered.....would I have actually done something? I would like to think that if I had been there in a position to help I would have helped back then. But this is not back then. This is today. If I will not help now, I probably would not have helped then. We do many things to help each other, but would I do those same things to help a stranger.....a person who will never have an opportunity to pay me back? I hope so.

I know we can't solve every problem or fill every need in this world. But if I call myself a disciple of Christ I surely can find someone, somewhere to show mercy to with no expectation of anything in return. Warm feelings and kind thoughts are not enough in the face of genuine need.....nor can religious routines carefully observed ever substitute for compassionate action. "But whoso hath this world's good and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him?" I John 3:17
