BABY SITTING

Donna and I are as most of you know. Our five month old grandson, Landon, occupies our time and definitely our energy. We feed.....we rock.....we sing.....we clean up messes.....we walk the floor some.....we put off other things to be available to him. Our reward is the privilege of loving him.....of holding him.....of seeing his eyes light up when he looks at us.....of hearing him chuckle.....of seeing the gains he makes every day.....of his wringing laughter out of us like water out of a rag. His radiant face makes us feel special just being there.

He makes me think about God in ways I need to be thinking about Him. How we see God impacts directly upon what we think of Him. How does He see us? How does He regard us? Do we really have to "stand on our head" in order to get His attention? Do we really have to bring Him remarkable gifts in order to somehow win His love? Could it possibly be that the sight of us brings a smile to the face of God? Could He long for our company the way we long for the company of those we love? Donna and I can no more look into that baby boys eyes without smiling than we can live in this world without breathing. It's the same joy we feel with our granddaughters.

We remind each other regularly that we are the "children of God", yet we often refuse to accept the reality of the love our Father has for us. It's even more difficult for us to accept that we truly are a "joy" to Him. Your faith, your gratitude, your obedience, your love and commitment, bring a smile to His face. "I will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty." II Corinthians 6:18
