THE WORLD'S VIEW

The world cites its woes as justification for its unbelief. Our troubles are clear evidence that there is no God who cares for us. We all must be on guard against thinking the world's way. Job reminds us all that a very good man can still suffer in terrible ways yet the God still sustains. It's all over the Bible and the experience of human life in 2011. Ruth's husband died and she was forced to fend for herself in a hostile culture. For more than a dozen years Joseph was either a slave or a prisoner in a country where he had no civil rights or legal protection. We proclaim a loving and caring God to a world who measures that love by and absence of suffering. Let's never let their mistake become ours. Like Paul's thorn in the flesh our situation may be our invitation to experience God's grace at a deeper level. "For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared to the glory that shall be revealed in us." Romans 8:18
